Corflu Glitter to Offer Chamberlain Items!

The Corflu Glitter committee is delighted to announce that we will shortly offer fans the opportunity to purchase items decorated with the art of Ross Chamberlain.

This is an outgrowth of plans for the New York Fandom and Las Vegas Fandom Reunion, which will take place at Corflu Glitter. Ross contributed greatly to both of those Fandoms, so we felt it was fitting to make items with his art the first major expansion of Corflu Glitter's Café Press Store.

The store, under the stewardship of Don Miller, is readying an assortment of merchandise, including mugs, key chains, stickers and wall clocks, featuring Ross' iconic drawing of Jophan with his Shield of Umor. Corflu Glitter will receive a generous share of the profits. (Note: This is not Ross' artwork for the Corflu Glitter tee-shirt, which will make its debut at the convention.)

The items will be available soon, probably within the next week.

Don't forget the Corflu Glitter logo merchandise, available at the same location. Check out the store at: <http://www.cafepress.com/CorfluGlitter>. If there are other items you'd like such as the wall clock or stickers, drop Don Miller (scifiguy666@cox.net) and let him know.

Rob Jackson, a much respected British fan, reports that the Café Press site charges orders from the UK the proper exchange rate.

Still Time for Lifetime Achievement Nominations!

Tuesday, September 6, 2011 is the deadline for nominating your choice for the 2012 Lifetime Achievement Award. Joyce Katz encourages all Trufans, not just Corflu Glitter members, to help select a worthy recipient. The award, to be presented at the Corflu Glitter banquet, honors a living fan for the quality and quantity of his or her contributions to Fandom. The two previous recipients, Ted White and Art Widner, are ideal examples.

Nominations should be sent to the LAA Committee's non-voting Helper (me) at: crossfire4@Cox.net.

After the deadline, the Lifetime Achievement Awards Committee will receive the names of the most-nominated fans and must select the recipient from among them.

junction with the convention. The collection will have approximately 50 pages of Ross' fannish, sfnal and fantasy artwork from both his New York and Las Vegas periods.

Ross himself has agreed to select the illustrations for this volume. Long-time collaborator Arnie Katz (me) will provide an introductory article and will supervise publication. "Ross has been a great fan artist for nearly a half-century," adds Joyce Katz, Corflu Glitter Chairman. "This anthology will be a lasting testament to the excellence of his work."

Corflu Glitter Folks Sweep Fan Hugos

Congratulations to Chris Garcia, Claire Brialey and Brad Foster, all of whom won fan Hugos at the recent 69th World Science Fiction Convention. The fact that all three are involved with Corflu Glitter makes the occasion an even happier one.

Chris Garcia's The Drink Tank won "Best Fanzine," Claire Brialey won "Best Fan Writer" and Brad Foster won "Best Fan Artist."

A Question about Extended Stay

Rob Jackson wants to know if Corflu attendees can get favorable rates if they want to stay at Sunset Station before and after the con. We have already negotiated convention rates for Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday nights. Joyce will negotiate further extensions and report the results.

That's All for Now

It's starting to look like I'll be back next week with another Glitter. Meanwhile, keep fanning! — Arnie
